COSMETOLOGY

WE BUILD CAREERS.

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the Cosmetology program is to provide training in the methods and materials of cosmetology in order to meet the occupational needs of citizens of the College's service area who have an interest in this type of employment.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Classroom and practical learning experiences are concerned with a variety of beauty treatments which may include the care and beautification of the hair, complexion, and hands. The basic instruction includes training in giving shampoos, rinses, and scalp treatments; hair styling, setting, cutting, tinting, lightening and permanent waving; facials; manicures; and hand and arm massages. The entire program is geared toward preparing students to receive a diploma from the College, to pass the Tennessee Board of Cosmetology Licensing Examination, and to go to work as a Cosmetologist.

JOB OPPORTUNITIES

Cosmetologists provide a variety of beauty services to patrons, including shampoos, cuts, styles, perms, coloring, manicure, and facial treatments. The cosmetologist may also act as a beauty consultant and guide for hair styles and make-up analysis. Many cosmetologists make appointments and keep their books regarding their business. They may also keep records of their patrons likes and dislikes of hair color, perms, styles, etc. The Cosmetologist usually works in beauty salons, but may also work in hotels, department stores, nursing homes, and hospitals. Many cosmetologists operate their own business.

Demand: Employment of cosmetologists is expected to grow as fast as the average for all other occupations in response to population growth, higher incomes, the rising number of working women, and expansion of the beauty salon industry.

OVERVIEW

A licensed cosmetologist may be known by several names. Some of these names include hairdresser, hairstylist, operator, and cosmetologist. This person must have passed an examination required by the state to receive a license. After completing the College's requirements and getting a license, a cosmetologist may be employed in a salon performing paid services for the public. They develop a clientele that makes appointments with them for the services they perform. Most cosmetologists have a goal of owning their own shop. While this is a worth-while goal, the risks involved must be understood. If managed properly, a salon can be a very rewarding experience.

During training, a student will be exposed to all aspects of cosmetology including:

Ethics: The student is informed about the ethical procedures of the profession and of dealing with patrons, co-workers, employers, and employees.

Bacteriology, Sterilization, and Sanitation: The understanding of causes of and spreading of disease. Also included are Chemistry, Anatomy and Physiology as they pertain to Cosmetology.

The Nail: The study of the composition, disorders and cosmetics of the nail (manicuring).

The Hair: The study of the purpose, the composition, growth, life cycle, and abnormalities of the human hair. The chemical and physical actions of shampoos, the shaping of hair, the principles of hair-styling, thermal waving and curling, and permanent waving are a large part of the program. The skill of hair coloring, hair lightening, and hair removal are included.

The Skin: The functions, diseases, and the disorders and conditions of the skin are studied. Also included in this portion of the program is facial treatments, skin care, and facial makeup.

Much time is spent in the salon (lab) training area. Patrons from outside the class come into the salon to take advantage of the services of the program that are needed to make the training most effective.
